

THE UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII'S

MENTORING BOOTCAMP

for post-doctoral fellows and new and early-stage investigators

MAY 14 - MAY 23, 2024

T, W, TH 11AM - 1 PM HST

VIA ZOOM

TO REGISTER, CLICK HERE OR SCAN!

Week 1: General skills-building sessions led by experts!

- NIH Grant Structure, Biosketches, Budgets
- Manuscript Writing, Review, and Publishing
- Specific Aims

Week 2: Research-Specific Tracks

Basic	Clinical	Community
Effective Lab Management Communicating Basic and Translational Science	Regulatory Essentials for the Researcher	Exploring NIH Funding Opportunities
Mentor-Mentee Relationships Incorporating Data Science Tools Statistical Do's and Don'ts for Basic Science Researchers	Clinical Protocol Development/Randomization Conducting Clinical Research: Getting Started & Avoiding Pitfalls	Understanding Filipino Substance Use through Community and Service Provider Steaming Funding in Academic- Community Partners and Building Research Capacity
Research Resources and Core Services Grant Mechanisms and Peer Review	Health Policy Basics for Researchers	Advancing CBPR through the MALAMA Study: Lessons Learned Community-Driven Idea and Community-Based Execution

Mentoring Bootcamp is sponsored by the Ola HAWAII RCMI (U54MD0076010) funded by the National Institute on Minority Health and Health Disparities and the PIKO Center for Pacific Innovations, Knowledge, & Opportunities (U54GM138062) funded by the National Institute of General Medical Sciences, both at the University of Hawai'i at Manoa.